COMMENTARY

Man questions what will be after life and if upon dying that's the end of it all? Throughout science it is sought precisely how to prolong life, there is talk of teaching the DNA code, of transplants of organs with cloned organs, the multiplication of mother cells of the umbilical cord to eliminate diseases, etc. Nevertheless the creator has set an end to our days Psalm 90:10.

The only one that promises a long life is the Eternal God, as his nature is eternal, eternity is understood as what has always existed and will exist, to say, what always trickles of life, where time has no end, God inhabits with it Isaiah 57:15, and who else?

The life that we now live does not compare with the eternal life that the almighty offers. There will be a superior level, prepared for a transformed body. Part of the Scriptures reveal to us what will be there in that eternal life 1 John 3:2.
