

QUESTIONS

1 . To whom is respect owed and from whom?

Leviticus 19:32; 1 Samuel 24:8-10

2. Who is given respect according to this verse?

Romans 13:1 ; Hebrews 13:17; 1 Peter 2:13

3. Even though it may be my relative or close friend, do I owe respect to someone with a position?

1 Kings 1:15-16; 30-31; John 2:3-5

4. Among brethren in the faith, we are all the same, but does that give us the right to disrespect each other?

James 3:1-8; Psalm 55:12-14

5. It is clear to see that as elders we are to be given respect, but what do we also need to do?

Titus 2:2-3; 1 Tim. 5:17

6. To the young ones, the children, do they deserve respect?

Ephesians 6:4; 1 Timothy 5:1-2; Col 3:21

7. Do we have to have mutual respect among all?

Ephesians 4:31-32; Colossians 3:25

Respect Among Brethren

31 October 2009 C.E.

Day 9 of the Eight Month 2013 E.M.

Biblical Reading: Colossians 3:8-17

Memorization Text. But he that doeth wrong shall receive for the wrong which he hath done: and there is no respect of persons. (Colossians 3:25 KJV)

COMMENTARY

This is a topic of extreme importance for God's people, as for one reason or another the respect and the standards of chivalry that have always existed have been on a decline. Within the congregation, we can get along well and with trust, but it is necessary to not forget about the higher powers, ages, and above all, to treat others as I would like to be treated.

In the fellowship, in the moments of chatting, and at all times, let us not forget about the mutual respect and the need to allow ourselves to be respected and to demonstrate respect.